DESIGN MIAMI

MIA MI
BOOTH G15
DEC 04 2018 - DEC 09 2018
SIDE GALLERY
Side Gallery is pleased to announce its participation on the new edition of Design Miami coming this December 4th in Miami Beach, USA.

Featuring iconic historical designers Lina Bo Bardi, Osvaldo Borsani, Joaquim Tenreiro, Carlo Hauner & Martin Eisler, Gae Aulenti or Gino Sarfatti as well as contemporary designers Guillermo Santomà, Aneta Regel, Pedro Reyes and Sabine Marcelis, the exhibition will navigate through time in a dialogue between architecture and design through the XX and the XXI century.

Telling a story about absence of colour and transparency, almost 30 pieces will be displayed offering a dynamic evolving presentation of works in a conversation among emblematic designers of our times and today’s most renowned artists.

Side Gallery will be presenting a selection of rare pieces by Martin Eisler and Carlo Hauner, most of them never exhibited before and specially commissioned for a private home in Sao Paulo in 1959, which will be interacting with a selection of lightings from the 70s and 80s by Gae Aulenti, where it will be explored this idea of glassiness and lightness, introducing at the same time new works from Side Gallery’s designers.

Following this path, popular Dutch designer Sabine Marcelis will be showcasing a three meters high mirror and a series of lighting totem pieces never shown before, created especially for the fair, pushing the limitations of materials to the edge, and seeking to re-create moments of beauty, directly inspired by nature. With pieces that flirt with depth perception through colour and layering, Sabine keeps on exploring with resin and neon. As cast polyester resin diffuses the path, and a neon light source causes the colours to glow, a new relationship is formed, and a spectacle is ignited.

Spanish designer Guillermo Santomà, will be continuing an intervention developed in private commission in Paris this fall, in which he explores materials and its limitations. Using sheepskins, furs, and glass, travelling through opposites and extremes, Santomà intends to deconstruct the fixed images of design, being his work in a constant process of deformation and creation, and becoming a permanent attempt to dissolve the thin line that separates architecture from design.

In a space where identity is a given and each aesthetic can still be legible in a monochromatic palette, white forefronts the juxtaposition of line, texture, and shadows, encouraging a conversation across edges, across contemporary and modern, European and American, architecture and design.
This show aims to minimize colour and maximize light in an almost complete absence of cast where pieces interact in an exhibition where form gains protagonism within the historical and contemporary pieces.

Side Gallery’s proposal will find its fulfilment by standing among pieces shown by contemporary artist Pedro Reyes, winner of the Visionary Awards and one of our star designers, who will be presenting in his own booth a collaborative exhibition, as well as designing the graphic identity for the fair, inspired by bold graphics of the handmade protest signs, posters, and ephemera from the 1968 uprisings in Mexico, Paris, Prague, and Berkeley.

Reyes and his wife Carla Fernández will present pieces never shown before amongst a retrospective of works that address some of the fundamental concerns of our time and facilitate intimate human exchanges that have become rare in this digital age. Key works on view will include Reyes’s Metate chairs, which are inspired by pre-Colombian artefacts made with three legs, and also examples from Reyes’s Disarm (2008). Following its debut at Design Miami/ the exhibition will travel to SCAD Museum of Art opening February 2019.

Last but not least, commissioned by Fendi, Sabine Marcelis will join the booth of the Italian luxury brand, where she will be presenting a ten cast-resin water fountain, each and one of them which will represent an icon of the brand, and will explore the hypnotic beauty and power of in motion water. Ever mastering her manipulation of glass and resin, Marcelis will strike us with a breath-taking liquid installation for Fendi’s latest Design Miami collaboration.

The exhibition proposes the viewer to mingle among pieces which stand out by exhibiting shapes and textures, whilst lamps and lights and transparent tubes play along bouncing reflections and air bubbles, in a collection of varied pieces, that express a perfect balance between contemporary and tradition.

An invitation to discover comparisons across different time periods, geographic borders, and even different styles that can be conceived, revealed and even brought into light.

Side Gallery
Side Gallery, established in Barcelona, works with international design of the twentieth century as well as contemporary design. The gallery focuses on Latin American historical design from countries such as Brasil, Mexico, or Venezuela, primarily concentrating on the work of Oscar Niemeyer, Lina Bo Bardi, Luis Barragán, Clara Porset and Joaquim Tenreiro, but also with a special sensibility for Spanish design of the past century and rare pieces by relevant architects worldwide; a criterion of diversity pursuing a transversal proposal in the design market.
For its contemporary design projects, the gallery invites international designers, architects and artists to re-think design and handcraft traditions, proposing a dialogue between two centuries to develop limited-editions works, commissioned and produced exclusively.

Biography
Gae Aulenti born in 4 December 1927, was a prolific Italian architect whose work ranges from industrial and exhibition design, to furniture, graphics, stage design, lighting and even interior design.
She was well known for several large-scale museum projects, including the Musée d’Orsey in Paris in 1980, the Contemporary Art Gallery at the Centre Pompidou also in Paris, the restoration of Palazzo Grassi in Venice, and the Asian Art Museum of San Francisco.

Aulenti was one of the few women designing in the post-war period in Italy, where Italian designers sought to make meaningful connections to production principles beyond Italy. This avant-garde design movement blossomed into an entirely new type of Italian architecture, one full of imaginary utopias leaving standardization to the past.

Biography
Joaquim Tenreiro (1906-1992) was among leading furniture designers and visual artists in modernist Brazilian furniture making in the mid-20th century. A forerunner in the use of rediscovered raw materials as well as the creator of a new formal language in 20th century Brazilian furniture design, he drew on the lessons of past furniture making as a vital source, not only in the mastery of technical and constructive solutions, but also in the aesthetic experience, craftsmanship, and the cultural meaning of his production. His exquisitely crafted pieces evoke a refined coexistence of traditional values and modern aesthetics, strongly bound to the Brazilian cultural milieu.

Born in Portugal to a family with a great tradition in furniture making, he moved to Brazil at the age of 22 and embraced a career as a designer by working at various furniture manufacturers such as Leandro Martins, Francisco Gomes and Laubisch & Hirth.

Tenreiro proposed a contemporary language and advocated the idea that Brazilian furniture should be “formally light...A lightness which has nothing to do with weight itself, but with graciousness, and the functionality of spaces.”

Biography
Lina Bo Bardi was born in 1924, and was one of the most important and expressive architects of 20th century of Brazilian architecture. Born in Italy as Lina Achillina Bo, she studied architecture at the University of Rome, moving to Milan after graduation. In Milan, Bo Bardi collaborated with Gio Ponti and later became editor of the magazine Quaerni di Domus. As a member of the Italian Communist Party, she met the critic and art historian Pietro Maria Bardi, with whom she would move permanently to Brazil where they co-founded the influential art magazine Habitat which referenced Bardi’s conceptualization of the ideal interior as a “habitat” designed to maximize human potential.

Biography
Aneta Regel (1976-) graduated from the Royal College in 2006, since then she has positioned herself as a rare talent. She looks not for function but to capture the forms and rhythms of nature that evoke to the landscapes of her native northern Poland. She uses clay as her medium to create abstract sculptures usually unglazed but partly coloured to create a dramatic effect, each piece is repeatedly dried and re-fired resulting on a constant metamorphosis. In addition, she often uses volcanic rock, granite or basalt as the body of her pieces giving them structure, texture and great visual complexity. Her work is somehow eccentric and refreshing, leaving space for the viewer’s imagination.

Edition
Edition of 18 + 4 AP

Measurements
Ø 28cm x 60h cm.
Ø 11,02in x 23,62h in.

Biography
Pedro Reyes was born in Mexico City in 1972. He won international attention for large-scale projects that address current social and political issues. Through a varied practice utilizing sculpture, performance, video, and activism, Reyes explores the power of individual and collective organization to incite change through communication, creativity, happiness, and humour.

Tripod Series is based in Mexican tribal objects. Most pottery and stone artefacts from pre colombian times had three legs. Unless you had an even surface as a floor, one leg would be loose, and great stability was needed. Reyes takes this principle into these modern designs. The material Reyes employs in these sculptures further the careful attention to ancestry. Volcanic stone is an integral role in the shaping of Mexico’s landscape and its deep connection to the diet of its inhabitants, used for millennia to grind corn in metates and molcajetes, the traditional Mexican version of the mortar and pestle.
